Future Prospects Development Camp

Pride of the Diamond in association with the Perkiomen School is proud to offer a new Baseball Camp at the Perkiomen School located in Pennsburg, Pa. Our development camp is designed to strengthen core fundamentals and prepare players for High School competition. This camp is intended for players AGES: 12-16 and consists of a variety of accelerated drills and personal hands-on instruction.

Coaches will stress many of the new techniques associated with the regulation size fields that are often overlooked during the transition phase. This includes; the bunting game (base hits, sacrifice & suicide squeezes), base running, base stealing, taking leads at each base, holding runners on (for pitchers and infielders), defensive positioning and cut-offs/relays.

Players will also be drilled in the fundamentals of their primary and secondary positions as well as receive instruction on the fundamentals of hitting and situational hitting (hit and run, hitting behind runners & scoring runners from third base with less than two outs).

This camp will be a great learning tool for an age group that is vastly overlooked and will aid in the players development to become a successful high school player.

Lunch and T-Shirt is included in this camp

Summer Youth

Instructional Day Camps: So. Lehigh Plumstead      Lehigh Quakertown

The philosophy of the Pride of the Diamond Instructional Day Camp is to assist young players, AGES: 7-12, in improving their baseball skills while developing proper playing habits. Program emphasis will be on individual skills and fundamentals of the game. Well organized sessions will enable players to participate in all of the skill sets that occur on a baseball field. Those areas include; outfield play, infield play, pitching, catching, base running, hitting and throwing. Players will be grouped by age and skill in order to ensure optimum individual and group instruction.

The Pride of the Diamond Instructional Day Camp will also include drills to help to correct the faults of a young player and enable them to learn the proper techniques to enhance their skills. Additionally, players will be placed on teams and instructed on team play. Players will also have the opportunity to participate in games each day while being coached by a staff member. The coaching staff's priority for the week will be to establish a learning environment while still having fun and continually promoting respect for the game and your opponents.

The Pride of the Diamond Instructional Day Camp is a staple in fundamental player development, sportsmanship, and pure enjoyment of the game. Each player attending the instructional day camp will also receive a t-shirt.

OFFENSIVE SKILLS CAMPS Patriots Park, Allentown & Quakertown Memorial Stadium

The offensive skills camp is designed to accelerate learning for a youth baseball player in the offensive phase of the baseball game. Focus will be on developing a sound mechanical swing (Stance, Stride, Contact Point, Extension, and Follow Through). Each camper will rotate through a series of drills that will teach and reinforce the proper techniques and fundamentals of hitting. Drills will include tee work, cage work, soft toss and live hitting. Proper bunting techniques for sacrifice and base hits will also be taught. Players will also take part in a series of base-running drills that will advance their knowledge and baseball specific speed and agility drills to improve technique..
